

Turkeys can't fly...

If the thought of Christmas 2005 is about as appealing as eating turkey sandwiches for breakfast, lunch and dinner for a whole week, then why not plan your getaway? There are still seats available this Christmas and New Year to some fantastic destinations!

In need of some winter warmth? Then head off to Spain! Catch an exciting Real Madrid match and then party the night away – Madrid is well known for its lively nightlife. Or if you fancy soaking up some culture, head to Barcelona and pay a visit to Gaudi's breathtaking architectural masterpieces. When you're after a bit of sophistication, Rome could be just the ticket. Imagine sitting in a pretty piazza sipping a cappuccino after taking in the Vatican and the Colosseum. And if Christmas shopping wasn't painful enough for you, have a look round the Torture Museum in Amsterdam. 'Tis the season to be merry, so make sure this Christmas isn't a turkey and book your break now!
